Following the parade, the event took on a reflective tone with a Quranic recitation. The acknowledgments by Professor Faizan Haq, Founding President, and Farina Mirza, Executive Director, WNYMuslims to dedicated volunteers, generous sponsors, donors, and collaborators like the Town of Amherst, Amherst Police Department, Village of Williamsville, and the New York State Executive Chamber, Erie County Sheriff's Office as well as esteemed contributors, underscored the leadership and commitment that have helped shape the event's success. The day's highlights, such as the array of vendors added diversity and flair. Attendees enjoyed indigenous cuisine, ethnic attire, traditional jewelry, henna artistry, and more, creating a lively marketplace that enriched the event's cultural experience, the mounted horses (presented by the Chief of Community Services, Erie County Sheriff's Office), and the captivating performance by Saima Kashif, added layers of cultural richness and communal joy.

The reflection on the event's impact, especially the emphasis on US-Pakistan friendship and the importance of health and well-being, speaks to the broader goals of WNYMuslims and its partners. The gratitude expressed towards volunteers, sponsors, and collaborators showcases the collaborative spirit that made the event possible.

In essence, the WNY Health Fair and Pakistan Independence Day 2024 was a powerful demonstration of how diverse communities can come together to celebrate shared values, promote well-being, and create lasting bonds. The event not only honored heritage but also strengthened the ties within the Western New York Community, leaving a lasting legacy of unity and service.
